

ENDOCA

OUR STORY BEGAN WITH A VISION

Letter from the CEO

The road to Endoca started with the desire to offer people a better quality of life, naturally without compromising their health. In my student days digging through the university archives. I found studies on epilepsy patients that had trialled cannabidiol and had displayed promising results.

This led to further research into the compound, where I discovered I was able to breed a variety of hemp that contained enough CBD, and at the same time contained all the other macromolecules that were present in the original hemp plant.

My goal was to help change the world's perception of cannabis by making non-psychoactive cannabinoids available online. Since then we have dedicated our time to creating extracts that are clean, pure and sustainably made. In 2010 Endoca launched, with our name taken from the Endocannabinoid system. To this day this system is a hugely underexplored area in science and medicine.

The online shop was the first in the world to sell CBD online. My goal was to make non-psychoactive cannabinoids, principally CBD, available to customers who needed them globally.

Everything I made was built from scratch by investing slowly, using funding from all of our customers who were happy to pay for our products. Eventually, we could produce more products, help more patients, and spread the word.

We strive to make CBD globally available and affordable without compromising the quality. As we grow, we are bringing local farmers onboard and provide them with the know-how and equipment to grow hemp for Endoca.

We will continue to support organic agricultural practices giving farmers the means and land to make more ecological choices. By doing all of this, we hope to continue to produce clean hemp, make a positive impact on the global ecology and help reduce the global pollution problem.

Welcome to the family!

WHAT IS CBD?

CBD, also known as cannabidiol, is a naturally occurring compound found in cannabis and hemp plants. Along with CBD, the cannabis plant contains between 70 - 100 other cannabinoids.

The compound interacts with your body through the endocannabinoid system (ECS), a vast modulating system that controls your body's general state of balance (otherwise known as homeostasis).

The ECS regulates various functions in the body such as memory, immune response, pain signaling, and our body's inflammatory response.

CBD has been shown to help support functions such as appetite, mood, immune response, pain, sleep and many more. By supporting our ECS through CBD use, we're returning our body back to it's optimal state.

Endoca uses Supercritical CO2 extraction and our CBD comes from Cannabis sativa plants grown and cultivated organically without herbicides or pesticides.

THE PRODUCTS

Using supercritical CO2 extraction, we are able to reproduce the natural and balanced phytochemical profile of the original dry cannabis material. Endoca believes the herbs' biochemical equilibrium must be maintained since this has proven to be effective throughout the ages to heal the body and promote good health.

DOSING RECOMMENDATIONS

Finding out what dosage of CBD is right for you can be tricky. Here is our best advice for new users to CBD oil:

GENERAL RULE

For dosing, we go by the “up-titration” method. It’s a trusted method to help gradually increase dosage until the most desired results are achieved.

If you by chance exceed that optimal dose, you can always drop back down to the previous dose until you feel the most optimal effects. This can be modified as desired.

HEATED

DECARBOXY-WHAT?

Decarboxylation is the technical term for the heating process that is applied to hemp to convert CBDa into CBD.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Decarboxylation can happen in the lab, or naturally in the hemp fields from the heat of the sun. Natural heat from the sun is never high enough for total decarboxylation, so when heat is applied in the lab, total decarboxylation occurs.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

The most dominant cannabinoid in heated Hemp Oil is CBD. Raw CBD extracts contain more of the acidic compounds, like CBDa, that are found naturally in the hemp plant. These compounds are usually lost when heat is applied.

VS

RAW

HOW DOES THIS AFFECT MY EXTRACT?

Many plant compounds are heat sensitive and decarboxylated extracts will always contain a smaller spectrum of plant compounds.

RAW EXTRACTS

The Supercritical extraction method doesn't require heat to process our Raw CBD Oils which allows us to retain vital minor cannabinoids, flavonoids and terpenes.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF RAW?

Although research has focused mainly on CBD and THC, there is early research that suggests there are benefits to other cannabinoids such as CBDa.

"ENTOURAGE EFFECT"

The hemp plant contains over 80 cannabinoids that all work together in synergy. At Endoca we are firm believers in the therapeutic powers of whole plant extracts, meaning the more cannabinoids and vital compounds the better!

CBD OIL CAPSULES

Our CBD capsule range is an easy and convenient addition to your daily wellness regime providing a discreet and precise dose of CBD with no hemp taste. Choose from our raw CBD capsule formulas in both medium and strong concentrations. Each capsule contains the power of whole plant hemp goodness that delivers calming and soothing relief for the daily stresses of modern life.

Our capsules are vegan, gluten-free and contain no hempy taste for an easy way to take your daily CBD dose.

WHY DO WE USE GLASS CONTAINERS?

GLASS DOESN'T LEACH CHEMICALS INTO OUR PRODUCTS

Our salve mixture is poured at high temperatures directly into the containers you buy. We here at Endoca have always felt that pouring warm liquids into plastic was not the safest choice. While many companies are now using BPA-free plastics, our team has found new research evaluating more than 450 plastic products which has concluded that "Almost all commercially available plastic products leach chemicals that have reliably-detectable EA. In some cases, BPA-free products released chemicals having more EA than BPA-containing products."

Now, more than ever, it's clear that glass is the safest packaging choice.

GLASS IS FULLY RECYCLABLE

All of our containers can be recycled into new glass products over and over again. Current estimates state that only about 10% of plastic is recycled and that most plastic bottles that are recycled can't be turned into new plastic bottles. Rather, this plastic has to be "downcycled" into other lower quality products. Here is where recycling often hits a "dead end" - becoming so degraded that they can't be recycled further - and form part of a permanent waste stream.

GLASS IS REUSABLE

Our glass jars are safe and reusable which is why we always encourage you to find new ways to use them once you've finished your Endoca product. We suggest lining up our bottles on your window sill with little bouquets of spring flowers or use our jars to hold jewelry, a votive candle, or even your own homemade lip balm - the possibilities are endless!

GLASS REDUCES PLASTIC PRODUCTION

Every piece of plastic we've ever used and thrown away still exists. Every glass jar we use here at Endoca is one less plastic container created, discarded and left filling up a landfill somewhere around the world.
